FRANK C. WEST
Frank C. West, 92, retired minister and farmer, died Monday in a local hospital.
Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Etha Shelton of Herlong, Calif., Mrs. Marvin Bennett of Hope and Mrs. John Sparks of Blackwell, Texas.
Services 10 a.m. Wednesday at Herndon Chapel by the Rev. Lacie Rowe. Burial will be in Friendship Cemetery by Herndon Funeral Home.

JAMES E. WREN
James Edgar Wren, 72, a retired farmer of near Emmet, died Monday.
He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Glenn Sutton Wren, two daughters, Miss Mildred Wren of Little Rock and Mrs. M.D. Armstrong of Emmet; two brothers, Floyd and Willard Wren, both of Prescott.
Services 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at Harmony Methodist Church with burial in Harmony Cemetery by Cornish.

MRS. HOMER REEVES
Mrs. Vera Reeves, 62, died Tuesday morning in a local hospital after a lengthy illness. She was a native of Hempstead County, a member of First Methodist Church and a school teacher for 42 years in the Hope and Patmos school system.
Survivors include her husband, Homer, one son Olin of Hope, one daughter Mrs. Buddy Halliburton of Marshall, Texas; four brothers, Harry, Van, Quentin and George Derryberry; two sisters, Mrs. Autrey Smith and Mrs. Neoma Patrick, all of Lima, Ohio and five grandchildren.
Funeral services are incomplete and will be announced by Herndon Funeral Home of Hope.

ROCKWELL

men as the hearse waited outside the gate of the little military cemetery. "No one will be permitted in here with Nazi uniforms and insignia."

There appeared to be about 50 mourners, some dressed in full Nazi uniforms bearing swastikas. Five of those in uniforms said they were to be pallbearers.

Among the floral pieces was a large swastika composed of red carnations and a Nazi flag in red, white and black flowers.

Licenses plates of cars carrying the mourners, some of whom brought children with them, were from California, Ontario, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Michigan, New York and Pennsylvania.

A young man in an Army private's uniform said he was "here to mourn my real commander in chief—Rockwell." He identified himself as Pfc. James G. DeWitt of Mount Pleasant, Mich., stationed at Ft. Gordon, Ga. That, coincidentally, is headquarters of the Military Police Corps, headed by Turner.

But when DeWitt threw a snappy salute at Turner, the general returned it without appearing to notice the black armband of mourning on the private's sleeve.

Auto Makers Call Offer a Good One

By A.F. MAHAN
DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry offered the United Auto Workers union what one company termed the best contract proposals ever today, but asked the union to cut back on some demands won in previous years.
The industry presented a solid and united front in answering for the first time demands the union itself has termed the most ambitious it has ever made.
Quick rejection of the industry proposals by the union was expected.

The industry economic offers, based on a proposed three-year contract, come after two months of bargaining and with only eight days remaining before a strike deadline.

Contracts covering 650,000 workers at the Big Three expire at midnight Sept. 6 although only the company selected by the union as a pattern setter would be struck.

The three companies estimated their package at 33 to 51 cents an hour over the next three years, including a flat 13 cent-an-hour hike now and 2.8 per cent a year in the following two years.

All three, however, asked the union to modify a cost-of-living escalator clause based on the government cost-of-living index which has brought union members increases of 18 cents an hour since 1964.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther has said he would brook no tampering with the clause and that an attempt to change would be a strikeable issue.

The industry also offered the union an increase of from 62 per cent to 80 per cent in the supplemental unemployment benefits — the benefits that supplement a laid-off worker's state unemployment compensation.

This apparently was far short of the demand made by the union for a complete guaranteed annual income.

CONGRESSMEN

was levied only for the last nine months of 1966. It was to be paid by "all residents." No other county in this immediate area yet levies an income tax.

Ashbrook says he filed a Montgomery County tax return, but sent no check. He estimates as many as three-quarters of his colleagues who live in the county have not even filed a return, much less paid the tax.

Under the law, said Douglas Dayhoff, county finance director, congressmen "are liable. Where there has been no change in the law, I feel we do have to collect."

He says he will seek full taxes from members who come from states with no income taxes, such as Ohio, and seek to collect a percentage from congressmen from states where the income tax is less than Maryland's.

Ashbrook believes, however, that as an Ohio resident he is not liable for either the Montgomery County or Maryland tax.

Although Dahoff is unmoved, there is no known effort among state officials in Maryland or Virginia or from District officials to force members to pay state or D. C. income taxes.

Would Lift Limit on City Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Revenue and Finance Committee of the Arkansas Constitutional Revision Study Commission recommends that the five-mill tax limit on cities be doubled and that their debt limit on capital improvements be increased from 10 mills to 15 mills.

The recommendations are carried in a report that will be reviewed by the full commission when it meets here Thursday.

The committee recommends that the tax limit for general operations in the counties remain at five mills, but suggests that the three-mill road tax be doubled and the present taxes permitted for a courthouse, jail or hospital be extended to cover all county general improvements.

All of the committee's recommendations are tentative.

It also recommended:

— That both cities and counties be given some authority to incur limited, short-range debts.

— That an amendment requiring some appropriation bills and tax increases to be approved by a three-fourths majority of the legislature.

— That no limit be placed on school taxes.

— That the constitution give some recognition to financing capital improvements through revenue bond issues.

— That a provision exempting cotton mills from taxation for their first seven years of operation be omitted from the constitution.

More Treatment for Gov. Wallace

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Should Alabama Gov. Lurleen Wallace begin X-ray cancer treatments next month, the therapy will take three to six weeks to complete, physicians say.
Surgeons at the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute removed a lemon-size tumor and a section of the governor's colon July 10. Returning Sept. 10 for a checkup, Mrs. Wallace, 40, probably will be an out-patient as doctors determine whether she should undergo precautionary X-ray treatment.
Such treatment, doctors said Monday, would be to destroy any lingering cancer cells.

Mississippi Goes to Polls Today

By VERNON A. GUIDRY JR.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi votes today in a Democratic primary election runoff where unassessed Negro voting strength and the ballots of a defeated hard-line segregationist could decide the governor's race.

In local contests, the state may elect its first Negro sheriffs since Reconstruction. Four candidates for sheriff are among the 21 Negroes seeking county offices against white opponents.

A Democratic congressman from Detroit was in Mississippi to observe the voting and to encourage participation of Negroes. Rep. John C. Conyers, a Negro and a member of the House Judiciary Committee, said he would file a report with his committee although his visit was unofficial.

He said the report was prompted because "the Justice Department is literally flooded with complaints" about past Mississippi elections.

The question of the Negro vote was whether it would form behind state Treasurer William Winter or U.S. Rep. John Bell Williams for governor. Each candidate claimed the conservative, segregationist banner and attacked the federal government.

First primary returns indicated that Negroes, with registration estimated at about 185,000, split among the candidates much as white voters did.

The other factor was the pool of more than 124,000 votes won in the first primary by Jimmy San, a Hattiesburg country singer who captured third place with a pledge to open private, segregated schools.

Hope Soldier Is Honored

Corsia Vote Not Against DeGaulle

BASTIA, Corsica (AP) — A special election for a seat in the French National Assembly Sunday gave no indication that voters in Corsica have turned against President Charles de Gaulle because of his recent policies.

One of De Gaulle's supporters, Jean-Paul de Rocca Serra, won the Corsican election with about 55 per cent of the vote, although the losers charged that certain ballot boxes had been stuffed.

BOEGLINGEN Germany, (Special)—Private First Class John A. Wilson, center, son of Mrs. T. B. Fenwick, Jr., 217 East 14th, Hope, Arkansas, today was named Soldier of the Month for August for Seventh Army Support Command Special Troops.

Wilson, a supply clerk with SUPCOM's 85th Transportation Company (Car), received a letter of commendation, a three-day pass, a $25 Savings Bond, and 30 days exemption from duty rosters with the honor. Colonel Gerald H. Ragsdale, commanding officer, special troops, presented the 22-year-old soldier with the letter in ceremonies today.
Present for the ceremony was Wilson's wife, Sharon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Faris, also of Hope.
A 1962 graduate of Hope High School, Wilson was employed as an auto parts salesman by Crow-Burlingame Co., Hope, before entering the Army in September 1966. He completed basic training at Fort Lewis, Washington, and advanced individual training at Fort Dix, N. J., before being assigned to Support Command.

One of the largest command's in Europe, Support Command provides supply and service to combat-ready troops in the central sector of the NATO Shield of Defense, thereby helping deter aggression in western Europe. Boeblingen is located in southwestern Germany, near Stuttgart, on the edge of the world-famous Black Forest. The beauty of the predominantly industrial area is highlighted by the orchards and farmlands surrounding it.

Heritage House by her bridesmaids, Miss Linda O'Steen, Miss Carla Purdie, Mrs. Jack Caldwell, and Mrs. Kenneth Paddie. Miss Gaines wore a multi-colored frock and had a white carnation corsage. White carnations were also presented to her mother, Mrs. James Gaines, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. George Wright. Yellow mums centered the serving table where covers were laid for 14.

CITY MANAGER HONORED

In observance of Garland G. Medders' 10th anniversary as City Manager of Hope, a reception was given at the Hope Country Club on Sunday afternoon, August 27 with official members of the local city government in attendance and Mr. and Mrs. George Frazier as hosts.

A corsage of fleur d'amour was presented to Mrs. Medders. Guests were greeted at the door by Miss Carol Frazier and Miss "Mig" Georges of Richardson, Tex., a granddaughter of the honored couple. Yellow flowers were used as decorations throughout the clubhouse.

The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of yellow marigolds and candles in a silver and crystal epergne. Punch and white cake squares embossed in yellow were served by Mrs. Bill Wray, Mrs. Clyde Fouse, Mrs. Leonard Ellis, and Mrs. Lester Sizemore.

Also in the house party were: Mrs. Andy Andrews, Mrs. Thompson Evans, Jr., Mrs. Crit Stuart, Jr., Mrs. E.P. Young, Jr., and Miss Ginny Gardner. Among the 100 calling during the appointed hours were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Georges and two daughters, Richardson, Tex., and Miss Gayle Medders, Fayetteville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barham Taylor, of Sugarland, Texas, announce the arrival of their second daughter, Kelly Jean, born Aug. 21 at 11:05 a.m. She weighed 7 pounds and 6 ounces and 21 inches long.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Hertel of Sugarland, Texas, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. O.L. Taylor of Hope.

Skydiver Tells of Nightmare

HURON, Ohio (AP)—"It was really quite a nightmare," said Robert Coy, one of two known survivors of the worst sky diving accident in history. "It still seems like a bad dream. Maybe it was, and I'll wake up pretty soon and find out it didn't happen."

Coy, from Springfield, Ohio, held onto a slim hope that some of his 14 fellow Ohio parachutists missing in Lake Erie would be found alive. Searchers continue dragging operations today for the 14 who fell into the lake Sunday.

But Coast Guard officials and others feared there was little chance they could survive this long in the murky waters. The National Safety Transportation Board took over the investigation of the accident.

Seventeen men and one woman—all expert divers—bailed out of a converted World War II bomber from 20,000 feet Sunday, not knowing they were over the lake.

Coy and Bernard Johnson, 30, West Richfield, survived. Bodies of Mrs. Alvin Lowinsbury, 26, and Doris Kitchen Jr., 33, both of Akron, were pulled out of the lake Sunday night.

"I won't jump again," Coy vowed Monday night, but he added, "I can't condemn the sport."

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. KENDALL MCRAE LEMLEY

Miss Betty Carolyn Bobo of Arlington, Va., and Lieutenant Kendall McRae Lemley, of Ottawa, Canada, were married in a double-ring ceremony Saturday, August 26, at 3 p.m.

Vows were exchanged at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Alexandria, Va. The Rev. Charles W. Owens, Sr., officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia Prather Bobo of Arlington and Mr. Franklin Bobo, Jr., of Spartanburg, S.C. She was given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. John William Prather, Sr., of Spartanburg, S.C., and her sister, Mrs. James Gislason Hart of Oceanide, Calif., was matron of honor.

A full-length bridal gown of white silk organza over taffeta was worn. The princess style cage featured a jeweled neckline and long tapered sleeves. Small groups of daisies and seed pearls bordered the neckline, sleeves, and hem and were applied on the dress and the very full waltz style chapel train. Three tiers of imported silk illusion gathered to a cluster of daisies comprised the bride's headpiece. She carried a cascade of white daisy chrysanthemums with stephanotis and a white lace handkerchief which had been carried by the bride-groom's mother.

Bridesmaids were the bride-groom's sister, Miss Caroline Lemley of Ottawa, Canada, Mrs. Charles McKinley Cook of Dundalk, Md., Miss Carolyn Alexander of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Benjamin Reese of Havre de Grace, Md.

All attendants were attired in cage style gowns of aqua silk organza over taffeta with daisies on the jeweled neckline, and bordering the hem. Head pieces were daisy clusters in aqua with matching illusion. They carried cascades of yellow daisy chrysanthemums. The bridegroom, son of Colonel and Mrs. Kenneth McRae Lemley of Ottawa, Canada, had his father as best man, Lt. Lemley is the grandson of Mrs. Harry J. Lemley of Hope, and the late Judge Harry J. Lemley. He is also the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Moore of Prescott, Ark.

Ushering were: Lt. Ronald E. Adams of Lancaster, Pa., Lt. Joseph J. O'Leary of Jersey City, N. J., and Lt. Bernard R. Carpenter of Lynnfield, Mass. Music was provided by Mr. Dana C. Brown, organist, and Mrs. Mary Parlier, vocalist. The bride's mother entertained with a reception at the Fort Myer Officer's Club, in Arlington.

On Friday evening the wedding party was feted with a cocktail party at the home of Lt. Gen. and Mrs. Harry J. Lemley, Jr., of Fort Myer, Va. Following was a rehearsal dinner given by the bridegroom's parents at Fort Myer Officer's Club.

After a wedding trip to Nags Head, N. C., the couple will make their home in Fort Knox, Ky. Mrs. Lemley was graduated with a B.S. degree in home economics from Erskine College, Due West, S.C.

Lt. Lemley, who was graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. returned in early August from Vietnam where he served with the 11th Armored Cavalary Regiment.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

IT'S TIME TO BE SELFISH

Dear Helen: My parents got divorced when I was four years old, and both married other people. Then they got divorced again, and remarried each other. But it didn't last. They've been separating and going back all my life (which is 16 years). On their second divorce, my father remarried the woman he had divorced before, but that didn't last either.

All this time I was staying a little while with one, a little while with the other and sometimes with my uncle and aunt who are like mother and father to me. I like the school in their town and have made many friends. In fact, the only times I've ever been secure or happy are when I'm here with them.

But now my mother and father have made it up again. They say this time it will last and they want me with them "so we can be a family." My father is a bartender and my mother works part-time as a cocktail waitress. They wouldn't be home much. My uncle and aunt want me to stay with them.

I guess I should want to be part of the family and I feel guilty when I dread leaving this nice, steady, quiet, loving home. Is there some way I could stay here without hurting my folks?

-TUG OF WAR

Dear TUG: Why feel guilty about a course that will surely be better for all of you? It's time you thought of yourself first.

Tell your uncle and aunt you'd prefer to stay with them, but soften the blow for your folks by promising to visit them next summer. I think they'll be relieved to see you well settled. —H.B.

Dear Helen: I'll be starting my second year in high school soon, and am mixed up. You see, I sort of want to transfer to another school because I could make better grades where I didn't have so many friends to mess around with.

I get all A's and B's but I could make straight A's if I spent more time studying.

I know I should concentrate more on lessons and less on girls, my friends and fun. On the other hand, I'll miss the gang if I leave them.

Helen, please tell me what to do. —MIXED UP BOY

Dear M.U.B.: Forget the transfer and try a little more will power. It shouldn't take much because you are already a superior student. . . And you need your "F" (for fun) as well as "A's"—H.

Dear Helen: I kidded around with a guy at school and we hit it off real well. But we live several miles apart and he just hasn't thought about getting in touch with me this summer. Maybe he thinks I've forgotten him. I know he doesn't go with anyone else steadily.

My mother says "forget it," but I want to write a friendly little note, just to get me back in his line of vision again. Do you think this would be okay? —WONDERING

Dear WON: Why not? If a boy has cooled off for good, a letter won't fire him up, but if he's temporarily disconnected, a contemporary card might get him back on the front burner. Be sure it's humorous and appropriate.

Good Luck!—H.

Running Out of Places For Trophies

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bob Smith left California with Ron Cerrudo in July to play some golf. Eight weeks and 10,000 miles later they're in the National Amateur at Colorado Springs and Smith is running out of places to put his trophies. The Western Amateur at Millburn Country Club was a doubleheader sweep for Smith—two more trophies. He collected the medalist trophy Thursday with a 280, then bagged the fourth straight match play victory, 3 and 1 over Marty Fleckman.

Davis Takes Pro Bowlers Top Money

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Dave Davis of Phoenix, Ariz., knocked down more pins in a 40-game tournament than any man in history as he won the Professional Bowlers Association $27,500 Green Bay Open Sunday. The 6-2, 155-pounder totaled 9,316, breaking the world record of 9,283 held by Billy Hardwick of San Mateo, Calif., set in the 1963 Los Angeles Open.

NLR Heads First Grid Poll of Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
North Little Rock Coach Ken Stephens has used the Associated Press' high school football poll during the past two years to his advantage.

Now, he's afraid the poll may work in reverse.

His Wildcats finished the season ranked first in 1965 and again in 1966. They begin the 1967 season the same way.

"It could hurt us this year," said Stephens. "We've had a tendency to be complacent in practice anyway."

Stephens thinks the Wildcats' success of the past two years may have already taken its toll.

"I don't know how to put it," said Stephens. "The poll hasn't hurt us in the past but it may this year. If it was the first time we had been ranked No. 1 then we would probably work harder."

The Wildcats drew all 13 of the first-place votes for 130 points. The Wildcats got 14 of 14 first-place votes in the final poll last season after finishing 11-1. They were 10-0-2 the year before.

Fort Smith Northside finished third last year and ranks second in the preseason poll. Only seven points separate fourth-place Little Rock Central from Northside. Texas is third, two points ahead of Central.

Four teams split the first-place votes in AA but Conway came out on top. Second-place DeWitt and third-place Little Rock Catholic received first-place support along with Subiaco.

Brinkley garnered 11 first-place votes to lead Class A and Rison got 10 first to head up the B list.

Results of the preseason poll with first place votes in parentheses and total points at right:

1. North Little Rock (13) 130
2. Fort Smith Northside 100
3. Texarkana 95
4. Little Rock Central 93
5. Little Rock Hall 78
6. Fort Smith Southside 46
7. Springdale 43
8. Conway 29
9. Blytheville 23
10. DeWitt 20

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Benton, Brinkley, El Dorado, Fayetteville, Horace Mann, Hot Springs, Little Rock Catholic, Malvern, Pine Bluff, Sheridan and Subiaco.

Class AA

1. Conway (7) 29
2. DeWitt (4) 22
3. Little Rock Catholic (1) 13

Others receiving votes: Benton, Crossett, Malvern, Rogers, Sheridan and Subiaco (1).

Class A

1. Brinkley (11) 34
2. Corning 17
3. Fordyce (2) 10

Others receiving votes: Alma, Marked Tree, McCrory, McGehee, Nashville and St. Anne's.

Class B

1. Rison (1) 36
2. Stamps (3) 24
3. Norphlet 11

Others receiving votes: Foreman, Greenland, Holly Grove, Marion and Parkin.

Bobcats Get Ready for New Season

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

This fact I shall relate to you might seem out of season to some, overdue to others, and just plain unsatisfactory to the "hard to please," but still I say it. Football season is here.

Now, wasn't that easy! Maybe, for most of us love to pay the admission, find a good seat, and watch the game at leisure. Too bad, life isn't that easy for football coaches, whom I shall now thoroughly discuss.

Along about the tenth of August, our tale would begin; that is, if we were describing a football team. We are not. Our tale begins on Saturday November 12, 1966. Last night the Hope Bobcats lost to the Nashville Scorpions, a hard team to lose to, by the score of 26-7. It was the final game of the '66 season, and Hope had finished with a 5-5-1 record. But today Coach Freddie Glaze starts to make plans for Friday, September 1, 1967. After a period when the players rest from the past season, the off-season football class gets underway.

The Hope High School Athletic Department can boast of a fine weight-lifting program, and from now on for some nine months it will be in effect. Along with agility drills and a fine track program, the program also brings in the boy with desires to be a Bobcat during the off-season, so he may build himself up until August.

After school dismisses in May, the weight room, or "The Dungeon", as it is commonly known, remains unlocked for all participants in the Junior-Senior football program. The track is also open for the players to keep in good shape. These facilities stay available until practices start in August. Now you are beginning to see the planning behind this Bobcat team. But let me finish my story.

By the time practices start the coaching staff has page after page of mimeographed plays and defenses ready. The undertakings of each practice session are foretold. Then the Bobcats report, ready to play. The next several weeks are full of hard work and toil, as the team prepares for that opener September 1 with the Arkadelphia Badgers. This game has an added touch, too, as the opposition is the home town of Hope's head coach, and Hope is the home town of the Arkadelphia head ringleader. Finally, after nearly nine months of planning and preparation, the season begins. Everyone's hopes or fears will be realized quickly, very shortly after 7:30 p.m. on Friday night.

But if there is one thing any team needs, it is support. Many fine teams have faded from lack of spirit and enthusiasm. To show the Bobcats we are backing them, the whole town of Hope, Arkansas is invited to the first pep rally of the year, to be held Thursday night in Hammons Stadium at 7:30 p.m. Let's not allow nine months' work to go to waste, but help make it a success.

Travelers Complete a Sweep

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers completed a sweep of their Texas League series with El Paso here Monday night, defeating the Sun Kings 7-3.

The loss, the fourth straight for El Paso, left the Sun Kings three games behind Albuquerque and Amarillo, which are in a virtual tie for first place.

Andy Messersmith, starter and loser for El Paso, gave up two runs to the Travelers in each of the first, third and fourth innings.

A hit batter, a wild pitch and Jim Procopio's single gave Arkansas its two runs in the first. It picked up two unearned runs in the third on a passed ball a sacrifice fly and garnered two more tallies in the fourth on Joe Hague's 23rd homer and two succeeding hits.

Sal Campisi scattered El Paso's eight hits and held on for the victory.

The Sun Kings picked up their three unearned runs in the fourth inning on a bases-loaded, two-out error by second baseman Jose Arcia, followed by a throwing error from the outfield.

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—Arkansas' R. H. Sikes of Springdale, Dick Crawford of El Dorado and Miller Barber of Texarkana were among the leading scorers here Monday after the second of the rain-plagued $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic.

Sikes had a 72-68—140, Crawford a 73-71—144 and Barber a 71-74—145.

Tied for the lead were Mason Rudolph, Dan Sikes (no relation to R. H.) and Bob Charles, all of whom had 134s.

Dan Sikes Gets Course Record

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Mason Rudolph may yet win the $50,000 first prize in the Westchester Classic Golf Tournament—if the black-eyed peas and turnip greens hold out.

"I keep him strong on good old Southern cooking," said Carol Rudolph, mother of three who alternates with her baby-sitter in watching the kids and her golfing husband.

"Man, I'm tired," Rudolph moaned Monday after posting a second round 68, four under par, for a 134 and a share of the lead with Dan Sikes, the golfing lawyer who shot a course record 62—10 under par—and lefty Bob Charles of New Zealand who had a second straight 67.

"I just hope that one stays on the board," said Rudolph, one of the early finishers who had rounds of 69 and 67 wiped out by rains that forced postponements Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

"I've already played 72 holes and have a 270," Rudolph said, referring to his rained-out rounds.

But he isn't alone. Recently crowned British Open champion Roberto de Vicenzo, who had a first round 69, has posted three straight 67s—also a total of 270, but 136 officially.

The course record, incidentally, is 271.

Sikes, who twice pulled out of the tournament but got a third chance because of rain, had 10 birdies, no bogeys in his spectacular round.

Frank Beard was alone at 135, after a second round 67. Five were tied at 136, including de Vicenzo. The others were young Dave Hill, with a 68; Lee Trevino, 68, U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, 69, and South African Gary Player, 70.

Permits for construction of duck blinds on Millwood Reservoir will be issued on a first-come, first-served basis, beginning August 28 at the Millwood Resident Office, Otis K. Higginbotham, Resident Engineer, said today.

Applications must be made in person, Higginbotham said. The office hours will be 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The deadline of construction of blinds must be from 10 days to 2 weeks after opening of the regular waterfowl season. If permittee does not construct his blind by the deadline, the permit may be revoked and issued to another applicant.

Patriots Would Like Same Record
By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
ANDOVER, Mass. (AP) — To most people, Dec. 7, 1941, is the day that will live in infamy. To the Boston Patriots, however, the day that will live in infamy is Dec. 17, 1966.

For it was on that day that the New York Jets bombed the Patriots out of the Eastern Division championship in the American Football League.

Boston went into the final game of the regular season, needing only a victory or even a tie to clinch the title. But Matt Snell and Emerson Bozner ran all over and through the league's best rushing defense, and the Patriots had to settle for another second-place finish.

Coach Mike Holovak naturally was disheartened by the result, but looking back on the season as a whole he's not upset.

"I'll take the same record we had (8-4-2) every year I'm coaching," he said, "and I think I'd win it nine times out of 10."

A DIFFERENT ANGLE is what Barry Munns gets when he starts a back-flip, right, and winds up looking at Sharen Browning upside down. This caper took place in practice at Sun Valley, Idaho.

He is such a powerful blocker that quarterback Babe Parilli can count on at least one man keeping the blitzers away.

"He's by the far the best blocker I've ever had," Parilli says.

Joining Nance and Parilli in the backfield are flanker Gino Cappelletti and halfback Larry Garron. Joe Bellino, a flanker last year, had been given a crack at the halfback job, but Garron appears to have held onto it.

Art Graham is back at split end where he set a team record last year with 51 catches, and Jim Whalen continues to improve at tight end.

The rest of the line has Don Oakes and Tom Neville at the tackles, Len St. Jean and Charlie Long at guards and all-star Jon Morris at center.

Defensively, the Patriots have a problem, but they're not sure how big it is. All-star Nick Buoniconti, their middle line-backer, has been having kidney trouble, and it's not known when he'll be able to play. Rookies Ed Toner or Ed Hippolt likely will play in his place.

The outside linebackers are Tom Addison and Doug Satcher. The rest of the defense is a mixture of experience and on-the-job training. The ends, Rob Dee and Larry Eisenhaur, have 15 years of pro service between them while tackles Houston Antwine and Jim Hunt have been playing for a combined 13 years.

In drafting college players this year, Boston concentrated heavily on defensive men, and two of them—John Charles, No. 1, and Leroy Mitty, No. 11—appear to have won starting roles as corner backs. Safeties Ron Hall and Chuck Shonta round out the secondary.

The Patriots naturally are aiming for an even better record than last season, but as Holovak said: "I think our record last year would win it this year."

Harrelson Profited by Talking
NEW YORK (AP) — "That's the first time I ever stuck my foot in my mouth and came out with a better break and more money," Ken Harrelson, the Kansas City castoff, said after joining the Boston Red Sox here last night for the American League pennant race.

"It's the best thing that ever happened to me. I'm convinced we're going to win the pennant."

Harrelson, first baseman for the Athletics, was given his release after sharply criticizing Kansas City owner Charles Finley in the recent player controversy.

After Finley had fired Manager Al Dark, Harrelson called Finley "a menace to baseball."

"Nine clubs made me offers, seven in the American League and two National League clubs," the first baseman said. "I turned down one offer that would have paid me about $50,000 more than the Red Sox."

"But I wanted to play with this club. They're young and aggressive. They've got a lot of good years ahead of them, and I want to be a part of it. Did you know that at 25 I'm about the oldest guy on the club?"

A DIFFERENT ANGLE is what Barry Munns gets when he starts a back-flip, right, and winds up looking at Sharen Browning upside down. This caper took place in practice at Sun Valley, Idaho.

National Amateur Golf Meet
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — One hundred and fifty of this continent's best amateur golfers tee off on the mountain-surrounded Broadmoor Course Wednesday in the 1967 U.S. Amateur tournament with Ron Cerrudo, the handsome and happy Californian, among the top contenders.

Since 1964 the 22-year-old San Jose State student from San Rafael has been in the upper echelon of the play-for-fun set. This time he is playing on a course tailor-made for his precision style.

The Broadmoor Course, whose 6,946 yards ramble through the foothills of the Cheyenne Mountains, demands accuracy at the expense of distance. Cerrudo is arrow-straight of the tees, but his drives are only slightly better than average.

That's in sharp contrast, for instance, with Marty Fleckman, the young lumberman from Port Arthur, Tex. Fleckman, one of the longest hitters among either the amateurs or pros, is a scattergun.

Despite his erratic blasts, the 23-year-old Fleckman was the leader in the U.S. Open in June after both the first and third rounds, but zoomed to an 80 on his final tour.

These two youngsters, plus 23-year-old Bob Dickson of Muskogee, Okla., who is the 1967 British Amateur king, made up a powerful brigade which will try to return the title to the United States. It has been held for the past year by Gary Cowan, a Kitchener, Ont., insurance man.

Cards Split; Phils Lead Back Pack

A six-day sprint has swept the Philadelphia Phillies to the head of the pack in the National League's runner-up derby.

Now they're trying to drum up a match race with St. Louis swiftness. . . but Manager Gene Mauch isn't looking past the next nine innings.

"We're still looking for one in a row," Mauch said Monday night after the Phillies edged Cincinnati 3-2 for their eighth straight victory. . . and displayed the first symptoms of pennant fever.

The Phils' winning streak has vaulted them from sixth to second place in less than a week. They lead the Reds and Chicago Cubs by one percentage point. . . but trail the league-leading Cardinals by 11 lengths.

St. Louis divided a double-header with New York Monday night, taking the second game 6-0 behind ex-Met Jack Lamabe after the tallenders had won the twilight game 4-2 to break an eight-game losing string.

San Francisco pelted Los Angeles 7-0. Pittsburgh nipped Atlanta 4-3 in 10 innings and the Cubs shaded Houston 6-5 in other NL games.

Minnesota topped Baltimore 3-2, Boston blanked New York 3-0, Washington stunned Chicago 2-1, Detroit buried California 10-0 and Cleveland outscored Kansas City in 11 innings 8-7 in American League play.

John Callison's 13th homer snapped a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning at Cincinnati and the Phils added another run on a bases-loaded walk by Gerry Arrigo on the way to their 21st triumph in 23 starts.

But they needed four innings of scoreless relief from veteran Dick Farrell to keep the streak alive after the Reds closed the gap in the bottom of the sixth on Pete Rose's single, Lee May's double and a ground out.

The save was Farrell's seventh in 44 relief efforts this season.

Cleon Jones' two-run single was the big blow in a four-run fifth-inning flurry that carried the Mets past the Cards in their opener. Winner Jack Fisher blanked St. Louis until the eighth, but needed help from Ron Taylor in the ninth.

Howard Had It Figured for Boston

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Elston Howard spent all afternoon figuring out how to beat the New York Yankees. He spent all evening doing it.

Howard, recently traded to Boston after more than 12 years with the Yankees, made his return to New York an auspicious one, singling in a run in Boston's 3-0 victory, easing rookie Al Lyle through three innings of great relief and even throwing out Mickey Mantle.

"I spent all day at home figuring how to get this guy out and how to get that guy out," the Red Sox catcher said after the game. "I was a little nervous, thinking about playing against a team I'd never played against before."

When Lyle got two strikes on Steve Whitaker in the one-out, bases-loaded situation into which he had been thrust in the sixth inning, the benefits of Howard's pre-game thinking quickly became apparent.

Howard went out to Lyle on the mound where "I told him he was going to throw a breaking ball and he did. And he got him out."

In other American League games, Minnesota edged Baltimore 3-2 to remain one percentage point up on the Red Sox in the white-hot pennant race, Washington dumped Chicago 2-1, Detroit downed California 10-0 and Cleveland outlasted Kansas City 8-7 in 11 innings.

In the National League, Chicago beat Houston 6-5, Pittsburgh took Atlanta 4-3, New York split with St. Louis 4-2 and 0-6, Philadelphia edged Cincinnati 3-2 and San Francisco bounced Los Angeles 7-0.

When Mantle attempted to steal in the fourth inning, Howard was a bit surprised, but not enough to keep from throwing out the Yankee slugger. Mick left the game with a jammed right knee.

The Twins got the chance to stay ahead of the Red Sox when Pete Richert, the Orioles' pitcher, threw a possible double play ball into centerfield in the seventh inning, allowing Richert to score the go-ahead run. Zollo Versailles hit a two-run homer for the Twins.

The White Sox, meanwhile, fell into fourth place. Two games off the pace, on Ken McMullen's two-run homer for the Senators. Bob Paddy got the victory, although he was in constant trouble and needed ninth-inning help from Dave Baldwin.

The Sox almost threatened in the ninth when Tommy Agee singled and went to third on Ken Berry's single with one out. Baldwin came on to strike out Duane Josephson and Berry lit out for second.

Second baseman Tim Cullen took catcher Paul Casanova's throw and sent it back to the plate to nab Agee, trying to steal, for the final out.

Mickey Lolich stopped the Angels on five hits for his third shutout of the year for the Tigers. Lenny Green knocked in four runs, Bill Freehan drove three across and Norm Cash had three hits for Detroit.

The Indians and Athletics played Alphonse and Gaston in the late innings till Cleveland mustered a two-run homer in the 11th from Max Alvis.

The Athletics had taken a two-run lead into the ninth, only to see the Indians tie it up and Cleveland had a two-run lead in the 10th but Kansas City tied the score before the final runs.

Speedy Model Favorite at Trotting

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Imagine going along and having all four wheels of your car lock.

That's how it feels sometimes to Art Hult, driver and trainer of Speed Model, a temperamental filly.

The big, brown daughter of Speedster ranks with three colts—Dazzling Speed, Speedy Streak and Keystone Pride—as top favorites in a field of a dozen 3-year-old trotters going in the $122,650 Hambletonian Wednesday.

"If things don't set just right, Speedy Model puts on a bucking act," says Hult, who at 26 could become the youngest driver ever to win the Kentucky Derby of harness racing.

Arkansan Signed by Cardinals

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bill Brooks of Little Rock, who has played only one summer of baseball in the last three years, signed a contract Monday with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League.

Brooks, with 9.8 speed, earlier had signed a football scholarship with State College of Arkansas.

He played American Legion baseball this summer with Little Rock Arkhola, which won the state championship. He clubbed 10 home runs and hit over .300 while playing in most of his team's 99 games.

Cardinal scout Fred Hawn said Brooks would be assigned to Sarasota in the Gulf Coast rookie league after he finishes his first year of college.

Harkey Not in Contempt Says Judge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner John Norman Harkey wasn't in contempt of court when he ordered the Savings Guaranty Corp., of Booneville to stop doing business with the Arkansas Loan and Thrift Co., of Van Buren, Pulaski Chancellor Kay Matthews ruled Monday.

Matthews dismissed Harkey's order, however, pending a hearing to settle the question of whether Arkansas Loan and Thrift was, in effect, insuring its own loans since both companies share 13 major stockholders.

He also dismissed a countersuit in which Harkey contended that Chancery Court had no jurisdiction in the case, and that a Savings Guaranty suit against him should have been filed in Circuit Court.

Savings Guaranty obtained an injunction last Tuesday to stop Harkey from issuing his order. Harkey issued it the same day, and contended Monday that the order had gone out before he was enjoined.

JOE HARRISON

At yesterday's Lions Club meeting at Town & Country Social Security problems were discussed by Joe Harrison, Texarkana. He was presented by program chairman Bobby Joe Lee.

Mr. Harrison spends two days a week in the Hope Federal Building discussing social security with local residents. Some 3,300 persons in Hempstead receive checks totaling $190,000 a month. About 20 per cent of this goes to disabled workers and children who have lost their wage earning parent.

Mr. Harrison pointed out that Social Security covers a much broader field than retirement income for those 65 and older. He said that under certain conditions, wage levels and the number of young dependant children, that widows could draw as much as $1,000 which far exceeds most insurance policies most persons carry.

Disability insurance and medicare were also discussed as a part of the total social security program.

Anyone having specific problems and questions should contact the local SS office for information that fits their particular case.

Miss Gayle Williams, daughter of Mrs. Lucy Mae Williams, was crowned Hempstead Forestry Queen Monday at the noon luncheon of the Lions Club. Jim Gunter of the Hempstead Manufacturing Co. crowned Miss Williams.

LBJ to Ask UN Debate on Vietnam

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — A bloc of former senatorial delegates to the United Nations is confident President Johnson will try to initiate U.N. debate on Vietnam early in September.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who led a show of support in the Senate Monday for such a move, said in an interview the next move is up to the President.

"The President is interested in bringing the matter before the Security Council and we were trying to demonstrate that he would have public backing if he undertakes to get action," he said. "The decision, of course, is up to the President. I am confident he would like to have the matter brought before the United Nations."

He indicated no move would come before the South Vietnamese elections Sept. 3, however.

One by one, former members of American delegations to the U.N. got up to say the best route for breaking the stalemate on peace negotiations is through the international organization.

If such a move failed because of a Soviet veto, Mansfield said, it would expose the Soviets as "the artful dodgers they are" in calling for an end to the conflict but blocking an American proposal to reconvene the Geneva Conference which worked out Vietnam settlements years ago.

Almost all of the former U.N. delegates who spoke are critical of President Johnson's war policies. Besides Mansfield, they include Sens. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.; George D. Aiken, R-Vt.; John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.; Frank Carlson, R-Kan.; Frank Church, D-Idaho; Gordon L. Allott, R-Colo.; John O. Pastore, D-R.I.; Wayne Morse, D-Ore.; and John J. Sparkman, D-Ala.

They are joined in their appeal for U.N. actions by Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., who have not served on U.N. delegations. Sparkman repeated his support of Johnson's war policies in declaring the time is here for action in the U.N.

However, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who has backed Johnson's basic Vietnam decisions but took no part in the debate, told reporters he thinks any effort to get U.N. action on the war would prove futile.

Morse proposed the United States offer a new resolution agreeing to follow any orders the Security Council or the General Assembly might issue to end the Vietnam fighting.

During the Korean War, President Harry S. Truman checked with the U.N. before ordering allied forces to cross the 38th parallel to invade North Korea. In that case he was acting under a U.N. mandate to repel aggression.

Johnson has no such international mandate and few thought he would agree to permit the U.N. to make strategic decisions on a conflict which so many of its members would like to end under almost any set of circumstances.

BARBS

People without a pool in the back yard are just not in the social swim these days.

One good thing springs from the addition to the late movie by a member of the family: while others sleep, the night owl can let the dog out for his 2 o'clock stroll.

Americans hold nearly one trillion dollars in life insurance—$984.7 billion at the end of 1966, to use exact figures from the State Farm and Life Insurance Institute. The 1966 total worked out to about $15,900 for each of the nation's estimated 62,124,000 family units, about two year's living expenses based on the average after-tax income of $8,100 per family. Average family coverage by state, shown on map, ranges from a high of $25,000 in Hawaii to a low of $9,700 in Arkansas.

South's three no-trump contract looked as if it had been glued together with dishwater. South should merely have raised one heart to two but he had elected to respond one spade and, instead of dropping the bidding at two spades after his partner's raise, he went to two no-trump.

North might have been satisfied to quit at two no-trump because his opening bid was about as minimum as possible but he decided there was no real play for two no-trump and if you were going to be set you might as well go down at a worth-while contract. Fortunately for North and South the defense was not equal to the occasion and South managed to gather nine tricks.

West started helping out by opening the ten of hearts. Dummy's jack lost to East's queen and East played the ace and ten of clubs. The ten was allowed to hold the trick and East shifted to a diamond. South won that. He couldn't afford to let West in at this point. West signaled with his jack of diamonds.

South played his nine of hearts and let it hold the trick after West discarded a club. Then South led a spade toward dummy and finessed the jack. At this point South was sure of eight tricks and would make nine if he could pick up the whole spade suit. He ran off dummy's hearts.

East made a friendly play here. He had to make one discard and let his last spade go. Meanwhile South was discarding his last two clubs and West was getting rid of his clubs and the deuce of diamonds.

South cashed dummy's ace of spades, noted that East did not follow suit and led a diamond. West was in with the king of diamonds and had to lead a spade up to South's king-ten.

Age May Be a Causative Factor of Hiatus Hernia

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—In a recent checkup the X ray showed that I have a hiatus hernia. What is this? What causes it? What are the symptoms? Is surgery advisable? Would lifting heavy objects make it worse? Can it rupture?

A—A hiatus hernia is a protrusion of part of the stomach upward through a weakened diaphragm. It is often an unexpected finding in persons who are X-rayed for some other condition and the possessor may have no symptoms referable to the hernia. Since it is estimated that the condition is present in more than 50 per cent of all persons who are over 65, age is a causative factor. Another is obesity.

If your hernia is as large as your fist it may be associated with heartburn, belching or frequent hiccups. Aluminum hydroxide and other antacid preparations may help to relieve these symptoms but they will not remove the cause.

An operation is the only cure but this is not advised unless the condition is causing more distress than you want to go on living with.

The symptoms are apt to be more evident when you are lying down than when you are sitting or standing. Heavy lifting may aggravate your hernia but not so markedly as it would a hernia in the groin. A hernia is a rupture (in this case a rupture of the diaphragm). A rupture of the hernial sac itself is most unlikely.

Q—I have a hiatus hernia and eat only bland foods. As a result I am troubled with constipation. What would you advise?

A—A bland diet may include well-cooked vegetables and fruit. An amount of these foods sufficient to give you a formed stool without straining should be eaten every day.

Q—I have a double hernia. Is this dangerous? Does it cause gaseous distention? Is an operation necessary?

A—The chief danger with an inguinal or groin hernia is strangulation—a pinching off of the blood supply of the loop of intestine contained in the hernia. Your hernias are in the intestines. A surgical repair is the only cure and is advisable to prevent complications.

CHINA ENVOYS
behind the legation.
The fighting started when the Chinese barred the way of a police car and refused to move. The police pushed them away and immediately a crowd of Chinese rushed out of the mission's headquarters swinging bats and axes and hurling bottles and ash can covers.
One policeman was led away with blood streaming from a head wound. A Chinese, his face bloodied, was dragged by police along the cobblestones.
The police picked up the ash can covers and used them as shields against a barrage of milk bottles thrown at them.
A woman who lives in an upstairs apartment in the same mews joined in the fighting by throwing flower pots at the Chinese.
A blonde policewoman who got caught up in the fighting said: "It was terrifying. I never thought I would see anything like this in Britain."
When the fighting died down ambulances drove up to the legation and the attendants were allowed to carry out on stretchers three Chinese — their heads wrapped in bandages.

Says Vietnam Campaign Going Normal

By BARRY KRAMER
SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's leading civilian candidate for president said today he is satisfied that the campaign is going "normally" and that "pressures and intimidations of the local authorities against our campaign workers have been reduced."
"In the past two weeks," former Premier Tran Van Huong told his final campaign news conference, "the electoral campaign has unfolded normally in spite of too great a discrepancy between the means available to the civilian tickets and to the two generals." Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Huong said the improvement in the campaign atmosphere, "does not mean that the coming election will be entirely honest, because intimidating the campaign workers is one thing and cheating at the election is another. We shall have to watch and see how the authorities behave during election day to pass any judgment."

Also watching will be observers from more than 40 nations, including 22 prominent Americans sent by President Johnson, and some 600 newsmen.
There have been increasing reports that Huong's position is strengthening while that of Thieu and Ky is being eroded. Thieu and Ky are still considered the best bets to win in the voting Sunday, but victory for Huong is no longer considered impossible.

Huong said he would refuse to serve as premier if Thieu and Ky won and that he would not appoint either of them if he won.
He said negotiations to end the war could be held only with North Vietnam and not the Viet Cong, and that the United States and other foreign allies would play only an advisory role in such negotiations.
President Johnson's panel of observers was due in Saigon late today. Two new members were added to it—Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, pastor of the National Presbyterian Church in Washington, and Ed Monroe of Seattle, Wash., president of the National Association of Counties—and Henry Cabot Lodge, former U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, accompanied the group as adviser, coordinator and escort officer.

Hula Dancer Nearly Lost Grass Skirt

MOSCOW (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Charlene Chang of Honolulu almost lost her grass skirt doing the Hula Sunday in front of Soviet television cameras, but fortunately it was only a taping session.

Charlene hitched up the drooping skirt and continued her dance. But it slipped again. The girl borrowed a pin from a Soviet stagehand and restarted her act. This time the skirt stayed up.
The taping session included acts by several of Charlene's classmates from Honolulu's Roosevelt High School. The group, which totals 93, including parents and teachers, has been on the road since Aug. 2.

Rioters Also Turn Out to Be Looters

By ILL. SIMMONS
DETROIT (AP) — The "average rioter" in Detroit is pictured as a Negro male 20 to 28 years old, a resident of the city, who was arrested on a charge of looting.

That's the composite picture that emerges from police statistics on the 7,207 adults arrested in the week of July 23 during looting, burning and violence in the nation's fifth largest city.

All but 158, held on additional charges filed against them before the riot, have completed their trials or are free on bond.

Reports from the records bureau of the Detroit Police Department shows about half of those arrested—3,595—had records of previous offenses though some were as minor as traffic violations.

The records also show that more than 90 per cent of those arrested are from Detroit.

As in the riot last month in Newark, N.J., nearly 50 per cent of those arrested were over 25 years old.

Of the total number of rioters detained by police, 3,363 were charged with felonies, in Detroit, as in Newark, about 75 per cent of the felony indictments involved stealing or receiving stolen property.

There were 255 arrests on charges involving weapons or explosives in rioting at Detroit where 43 people died, in Newark, where 27 died, there were 92 such arrests.
Seven felony arrests were for

Tuesday, August 29, 1967
murder. One, against Patrolman Robert Paille in the death of a Negro youth, was dismissed for lack of evidence.
In 95 other cases, the charge is assault with intent to commit murder. Police list 26 of those arrests as sniper, among them five women.

Writer Says Namath Attacked Him

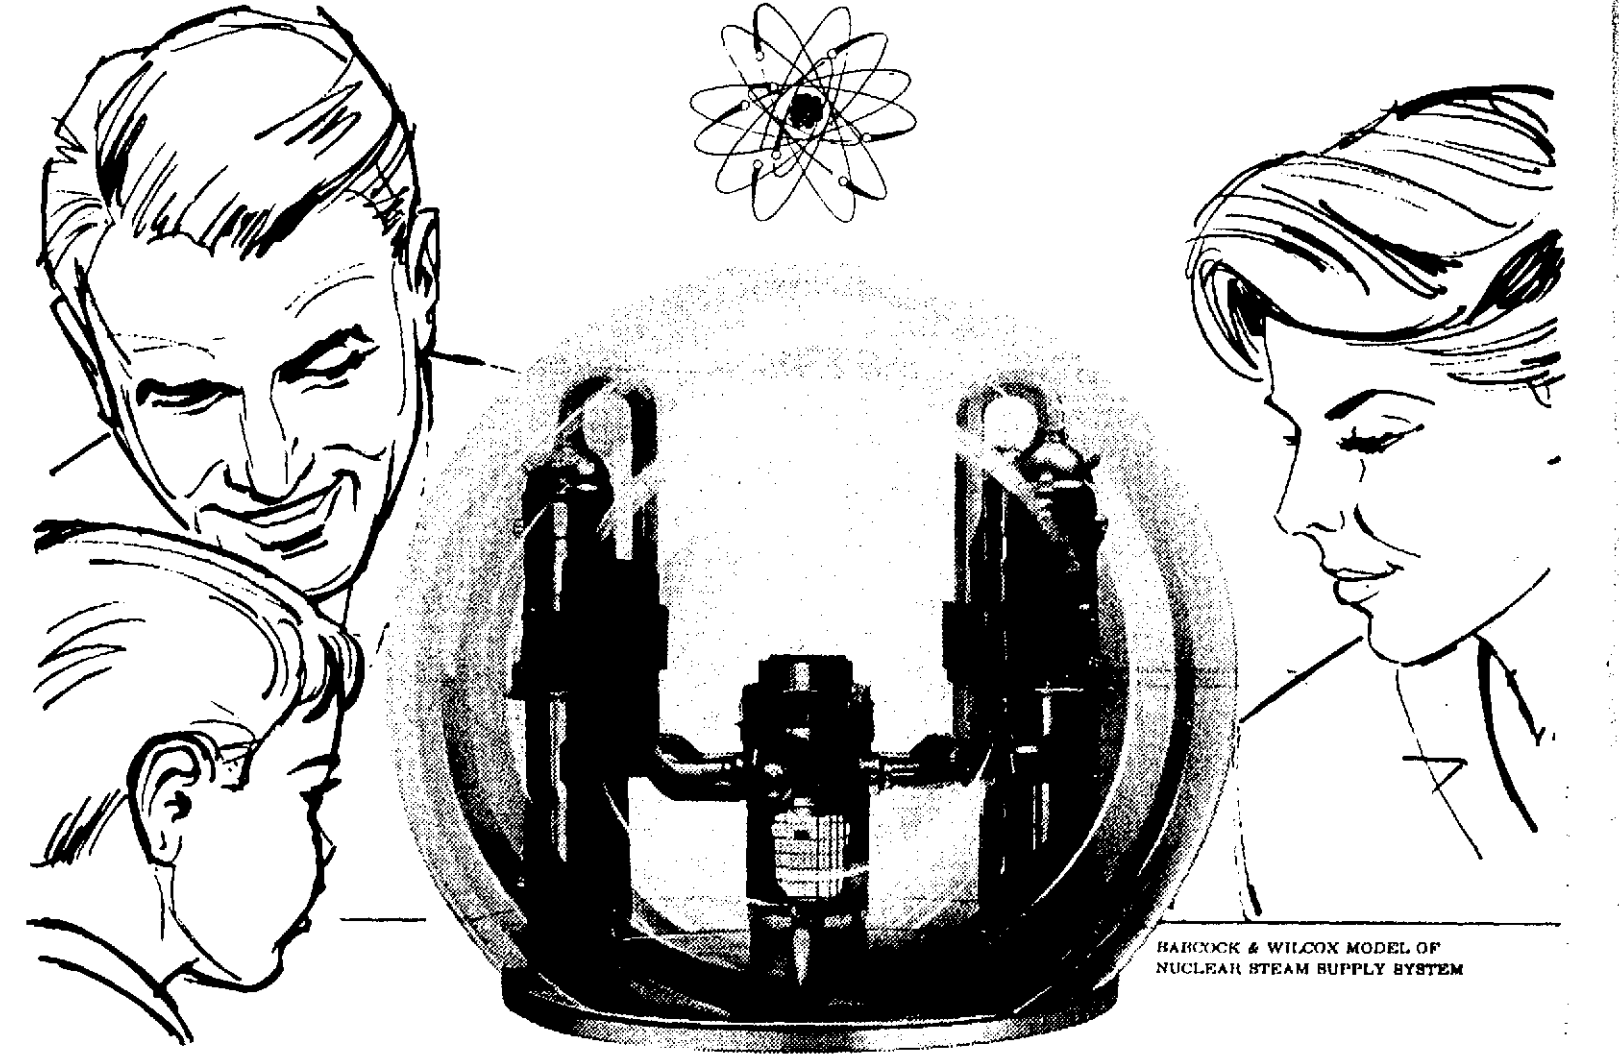

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Namath, quarterback of the New York Jets, apparently has not heard the last of his unauthorized Aug. 3 trip to New York.

Namath left the Jets' camp at Peekskill, N.Y., without permission because of what he said was personal matters and when he returned to the team, owner Sonny Werblin said he would be fined. Later, Coach Webb Ewbank said "action has been taken."

Now, Charles Parmiter, the sports editor of Time Magazine, has filed papers in Supreme Court alleging that Namath and two other men assaulted him in an East Side bar at 3 a.m. on the morning of Aug. 4.

Parmiter's court action, filed by his attorney, Stuart M. Speiser, asks that Namath and Murray Schaff, owner of the Open End Bar where the incident allegedly took place, reveal in court the names of two men Parmiter says helped Namath assault him.

According to Speiser, the identities are needed so that the two men can be included as co-defendants with Namath and Schaff in court action which Parmiter said he intends to start.

You can see the Future happening in the Arkansas River Valley

The modern age of nuclear power and its benefits are on the way to Arkansas — and you can see the future happening!

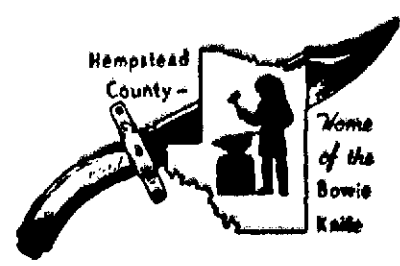

On the north banks of Dardanelle Reservoir on the Arkansas River about five miles west of Russellville and southeast of London, Arkansas Power & Light Company is planning the largest single industrial plant investment ever made in our State. Here, AP&L proposes to build the Southwest's first nuclear power plant, with construction planned to begin in the Fall of 1968. By late 1972, 800,000 kilowatts of nuclear power will go on the line — enough electricity to serve a city two and one-half times the size of Little Rock.

Thus, Arkansas will become part of the electric industry's fastest-moving development. In 1966, nearly half of the generating capacity ordered by the nation's electric companies was nuclear power compared to less than ten percent just two years earlier! AP&L's $140 million project will create 500 jobs during the peak construction period, while boosting the State's economy by an estimated $30 million in total payrolls, local contracts and purchases.

Within five years, AP&L will complete 1,800,000 kilowatts of new power — more than all its customers will demand this year. Just one of the ways the electric company people are helping to make your better future happen.

King Arthur's Camelot—Legend or History?

Your imagination is stirred by Eddy Gilmore's Associated Press dispatch in this paper last Friday describing British archeologists' attempt to settle the question whether King Arthur, his Round Table, and Camelot, are fact or fiction. The everyday world usually accepts King Arthur as a more or less real person from prehistoric days on which permanent records are scant or missing. Only when you check what little historical reference there is do you realize how much the King Arthur story depends upon unsupported legend.

But behind most legends there is a whisper of truth, and so the King Arthur story has stirred the hearts of men with an avalanche of literature. It has come down to us in a thousand romantic stories and plays dating back to the Dark Ages; it was treated humorously by America's Mark Twain in his "Connecticut Yankee" a generation ago, and current theater-goers remember the musical production "Camelot," on Broadway, now in motion pictures.

Factual history makes a grim effort to cut King Arthur down to size. Webster's Unabridged reports tersely:

"King Arthur — A legendary king of Britain of the Sixth Century who became the central figure of a great cycle of romance. Probably in the mythical Arthur a semi-historical personage was confounded with an ancient British god, thus forming a semi-divine hero." According to legend King Arthur was wounded by invading Saxons in the battle of Camlan, and was taken to fairyland to be healed—with the promise that he would one day return and lead his ancient Britons to victory over the invaders.

The legend is not so certain in fixing the location of Camelot. The seat of King Arthur's Court is variously placed in Somersetshire or Winchester, England, or in Wales.

Eddy Gilmore's dispatch of last Friday, filed from South Cadbury, England, reported that British archeologists have picked Somerset as the most likely place to dig for the lost city of Camelot. Historians don't scoff, either, for the folklore of that area says it was called "Camelot" for hundreds of years.

What the excavators come up with is anyone's guess, but don't forget that many a Middle East "lost city" was only a legend and then modern archeologists dug down and found the ruins of not one city but six or seven, piled one upon the other.

Or that the story of Norsemen landing on America's own Labrador 500 years before Christopher Columbus hit the Caribbean was also merely legend—until recent excavations uncovered entire Norse settlements on that wintry coast—and turned legend into historical fact. So may it well be with Camelot—for the spoken legend is frequently merely the forerunner of printed history.

Shirley Temple Is Candidate

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Shirley Temple Black, the one-time child movie star, announced her candidacy for Congress today, following in the political footsteps of two former co-stars, U.S. Sen. George Murphy and Gov. Ronald Reagan. Mrs. Black, a Republican, like Murphy and Reagan, will seek the 11th California Congressional District seat vacated by the death last May of Republican J. Arthur Younger.

Bullet Taken From Skull

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — Jackson County Coroner Otis Dillinger said Monday he had removed a bullet from the skull of a skeleton discovered Sunday in a wooded area near the White River, just north of here. Dillinger said the skeleton appeared to be that of a young man who apparently was murdered at least six months ago. The coroner said he was unable to determine the type or caliber of the bullet. He said pieces of clothing found with the skeleton appeared to have come from some type of work uniform.

Congressmen Irked by Tax—Now They Know How the Public Feels Rockwell Procession Held Up

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
CULPEPER, Va. (AP) — The hearse bearing the body of American Nazi party leader George Lincoln Rockwell was kept outside Culpeper National Cemetery for hours today by federal troops enforcing a ban against swastikas and Nazi uniforms worn by his mourners. By 1:30 p.m., 2½ hours after the graveside service was scheduled, military policemen armed with pistols and night sticks continued to block the hearse, ringed by Rockwell followers. The troops, led by Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner, Army provost marshal, arrived by helicopter and shortly after the corpse appeared and threatened to force its way into the little military cemetery.

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a tax rebellion underway on Capitol Hill. It has nothing to do with President Johnson's request for a 10 per cent surtax on federal income taxes. This is a rebellion against a one per cent income tax levied by suburban Montgomery County, Md., where about 100 congressmen maintain their Washington-area homes. Nearly all of them have ignored the new county income tax.

One who didn't ignore the levy is Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio. He took notice of it and refused to pay. Some congressmen contend they are residents of the states they represent and pay income taxes to those states. It would be unfair, they say, to have to pay the income taxes levied by Montgomery County or, for that matter, by the states of Maryland and Virginia and the District of Columbia. However, they do pay personal property and real estate taxes levied in their respective Washington-area jurisdictions. The Montgomery County tax

China Envoys Fight Police in Britain

LONDON (AP) — Members of Red China's diplomatic mission and police fought bloody battles today outside the delegation in the heart of London, bringing an angry diplomatic exchange.

Several policemen and Chinese were injured in two clashes. The Chinese brandished sticks, axes and threw bottles. One flashed a revolver but it was not fired. The police fought back with night sticks.

The first clash came when police stepped in to stop about 10 Britons and 15 Chinese who were punching and kicking one another after an exchange of words. A crowd of about 150 watched.

The second clash came as China's charge d'affaires returned from lodging a protest at the Foreign Office against the first incident.

Shock Fatal to Former Hope Woman

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. William Frank Martindale, 42, Nashville, received an electric shock Monday night at her home, causing her to have a fatal cardiac arrest. Authorities said she and her husband were trying to adjust their television antenna when she came in contact with the live power while standing on some wet grass.

She was a native of Hempstead County, a member of the Nashville Literary Club and Junior Auxiliary.

Surviving are her husband, a son, John Vasco Martindale, two daughters, Sherron Elizabeth and Lina Martindale, both of the home, her mother, Mrs. Mary Bright of Hope, a brother, Raymond Bright of Conway.

Services will be at 3 p.m. Wednesday at Latimer Funeral Chapel by Clinton Elliott and Robert Lyles. Burial will be in Nashville Cemetery by Latimer Funeral service.

College Girl Sentenced

LOS ANGELES (AP) — All that stood between job seekers and 25,000 jobs promised during a 19-year "job-a-thon" telecast today were long lines and red tape.

Rent Subsidy Measure Advances

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration got the full $40 million it asked for rent subsidies and $537 million for its model cities program in votes by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

President Johnson has said the two programs are vital elements of the administration's "pledge to bring hope and progress to the nation's cities" through the application of "the newest ideas and wisest advice" of urban experts.

Democratic leaders scheduled for Wednesday floor action on the measures, part of an omnibus $10.4 billion appropriations bill.

Officials of the Housing and Urban Development Department have estimated the $40 million subsidy program will allow financing of 44,500 housing units for low-income families.

The committee voted Monday to allow $537 million for the model cities program. The President had asked for $662 million but the House provided only $237 million.

The program gives federal aid to cities which draw up comprehensive plans to improve housing, education, transportation, health, recreation and sanitation in slums.

The rent subsidy program provides that a low-income family pay no more than 25 per cent of its income for rent. If more money is needed to secure adequate housing, the cost would be met by the government.

The House made no provision for rent supplements in its bill.

The bill before the Senate provides $445 million more than the House's $9.9 billion total. The two housing items account for most of this increase. After full Senate action, a Senate-House conference to iron out differences is likely.

Blair Asked About Missing Okla. Girls

MENA, Ark. (AP) — Winston Randolph Blair, charged Friday with the murder of 12-year-old Susan Vann of Gilham (Sevier County), was questioned Monday by Oklahoma authorities about the disappearance of two girls in Oklahoma last month.

Blair was questioned for two hours by Frank Brady and Jerry Lathrop of the Oklahoma Crime Bureau; Don Bennett, an Oklahoma City detective, and W. W. Bailey, chief of police at Mid West City, an Oklahoma City suburb.

Bailey said Blair told them he didn't know anything about the disappearance this summer of the two young Oklahoma girls. He said the officers had more information to check out with Arkansas authorities.

One officer indicated that Blair appeared innocent of involvement in the Oklahoma cases, but said they would continue to check the other information.

Officers said the similarity of the Vann case to the Oklahoma cases prompted them to question Blair.

The Vann girl was last seen alive Aug. 15 when she left her home with her small dog on the way to a girl friend's house.

Her body was found last Thursday when Blair led Sheriff Louis Hilton of Sevier County to a dry creek bed about nine miles northeast of De Queen. Earlier, Blair had been charged with assault with intent to kill and robbery in the $34 theft and shooting of an elderly Texarkana couple.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Bonnie Jo Bilyeu, former managing editor of San Diego State College's newspaper, was sentenced to six years in federal prison for smuggling marijuana.

Miss Bilyeu, 21, was sentenced by U.S. Dist. Judge James Carter Monday despite a college board's recommendation for probation. She was arrested last January at the Mexican border, attempting to smuggle 44 pounds of marijuana into the country. She pleaded guilty.

Enemy Planning to Sabotage Elections in Vietnam Sunday

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese sources say the Viet Cong have plotted a countrywide campaign to sabotage the presidential elections Sunday with increased military attacks, terrorism and propaganda.

The sources said information on the Communist plans came from captured documents, intelligence reports and questioning of guerrillas taken prisoner.

Over the weekend the Communists launched a series of mortar, rocket and artillery attacks from Quang Tri Province below the demilitarized zone to the Mekong delta in the south. There also has been a sharp increase in terrorist kidnappings, murders and sabotage.

The sources said one captured document called for Communist forces in the northern city of Da Nang to "smash the buffoonery of the election." It said that if the elections were a failure, this would provide "momentum to force a new political crisis."

The same document assailed the United States, saying: "Taking part in the election is letting Americans go on burning houses, destroying religious denominations, increasing cowboys and prostitutes, increasing the cost of living, increasing taxes and letting our men be pushed into death."

Another captured document said the policy of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front is "to incite the masses to push a full blown political struggle to disrupt the false election of Thieu-Ky and to make the new crisis general."

From this it appeared that the Viet Cong is assuming Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky—the military candidates—will be elected president and vice president.

The sources said elaborate anti-election plans have been drawn for all four of South Vietnam's military corps areas.

Wynne Calls Election

WYNNE, Ark. (AP) — Cross County Judge Stanley Sulcer agreed Monday night to call a special election Oct. 3 to vote on a 3.4-mill tax to build a new courthouse.

The $750,000 courthouse would be located on land that the Wynne School District has agreed to sell for $125,000. The land contains two school buildings, one an elementary school that would be used to house state and federal offices.

The school district would have to build another school. If the bond issue is approved, plans are to tear down the present courthouse in order to eliminate two 90-degree turns on Arkansas 1 near the courthouse lawn. The new courthouse would be built near the old one.

Four Negroes Charged in Rape Case

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Four Negro men were charged Monday with the rape of a 56-year-old Negro woman at Huttig (Union County) early Sunday.

Deputy Pros. Atty. Beryl Anthony Jr., identified the men as Sam Causey, who was being held in the Union County Jail here; Thomas Hawkins and Robert Lee Barnes, who were jailed at Crossett, and M. J. Cromwell, who was still at large. All four are from Crossett.

Anthony also charged the men with burglary and grand larceny. He said the woman's house had been ransacked and that a number of items were stolen, including a radio, a rifle and a purse containing $8.

Causey, 19, was being held under $5,000 bond. Anthony said Hawkins and Barnes would be transferred to the jail here as soon as Crossett officers disposed of some misdemeanor charges pending against them.

The rape victim was in a clinic at Marion, La., suffering from shock.

Plane Losses Since Aug. 21 Reach 16

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — The United States suffered its heaviest losses for a seven-day period in the air war against North Vietnam—16 planes—between Aug. 21 and Aug. 27, the U.S. command announced today.

The 16th plane—a Marine A6 Intruder—was lost on Sunday due to "unknown causes," the command said, but the announcement of the loss was delayed for security reasons.

The two Marine fliers were listed as missing in action, bringing the total of missing fliers for the seven-day period to 24. Three were rescued. In South Vietnam, the stepped-up Communist campaign of shelling and bridge destruction in the northern war zone was met today by three heavy B52 raids on Red staging bases inside the demilitarized zone.

Military headquarters said Communists blew up nine bridges in the past 24 hours—eight of them in the northern area and one in the main Mekong delta city of Can Tho.

The heavy attacks by the B52s followed intensive tactical air strikes by Marine and Air Force pilots on the gun positions where the Reds have dug in their heaviest weapons—152mm guns with a range of almost 20 miles.

These big guns opened up with heavy barrages on Marine positions two days ago, and since then Marine fighter-bomber pilots claim to have destroyed 14 fortified pits housing the big truck-drawn field pieces.

The increase in Communist shelling, bridge-blowing and terrorism was evidently intended to demonstrate Red muscle during the South Vietnamese presidential election campaign which ends Sunday. The Communists appear to be concentrating on terrorism in Saigon and on disrupting traffic along coastal Highway 1 in the northern sector and the main paved road south from Saigon to the big cities of My Tho and Can Tho in the Mekong delta.

Just after midnight Monday Communist sappers used the same technique to blow important bridges in Can Tho, and just below Da Nang in the north.

Near Da Nang also, guerrillas attempted to overrun a South Vietnamese artillery post and lost at least 15 dead in a pitched battle. The guerrillas got inside the perimeter of the post long enough to damage one big 155mm howitzer.

In terrorist attacks, a pair of Viet Cong agents on a motor scooter in Saigon's Chinese quarter shot down a South Vietnamese sailor distributing pamphlets urging people to vote, and a high school that was to be used as a polling place was blasted by an explosive, probably a grenade.
